ESOL: English for Speakers of Other Languages

If English is not your first language, our English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) courses are specifically designed to increase confidence in everyday life by improving your understanding of the English language.

They are run through Bolton College with accredited teachers and can be the starting point to gaining qualifications in English.

What will I learn?

An ESOL course will help increase your confidence in communicating in English at school, home, with family and friends, at work and in everyday social situations.

ESOL courses are perfect if you want to improve your English language skills, prepare for studying in English or if you're looking to get a job.

When are the session?

Currently our sessions run in 10-week blocks and are held in our additional classroom near the front entrance at school on Monday mornings from 9am to 11am.

Numbers per group are limited but please register an interest by contacting school at reception and your details will be passed on to the course tutor who will contact you regarding the start dates available.
